Kendall County Sheriff's Office Urges Parents to Check Sex Offender Registry before Halloween

The Kendall County Sheriff's Office is dedicated to making Halloween safe and enjoyable for everyone. The Sheriff's Office will increase patrol throughout Kendall County, with community policing and auxiliary deputies. These deputies are there to interact with the citizens and help provide a safe environment for Halloween activities.

As part of providing a safe environment, we want the public to be educated about the communities they will be in. The Kendall County Sheriff's Office currently has 24 registered sex offenders who are legally prohibited from participating in trick-or-treat activities. We want you to know where they reside so you can avoid those houses when trick-or-treating. Please visit our website at www.co.kendall.il.us/sheriff and select the "Sex Offender Search" tab to see where these registered offenders reside. The mapping and address feature found on the website pinpoints exactly where an offender lives.

Sheriff Baird says, "With these resources available and the Sheriff's Office being diligent in checking on where registered sex offenders reside, parents can feel confident in keeping their children safe this Halloween."
